

SENATOR JOHN HEINZ
HISTORY CENTER
IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

The mission of the History Center is to educate, engage, and inspire with links to the past, understanding in the present, and guidance for the future by preserving regional history and presenting the American experience with a Western Pennsylvania connection.

Please follow these guidelines when submitting a feature article to Western Pennsylvania History magazine:

FORMAT: Attach the file as a Microsoft Word document; do not paste into the body of an e-mail.

LENGTH: 3,000-4,000 words + photo captions and embedded endnotes.

IMAGES: 8-10 high-resolution files (TIFF preferred; if JPEG, save at highest quality/least compression). If images are very large, send via OneDrive or similar file sharing service. Any file less than 2 MB is likely too small. We do not accept low resolution images downloaded from the internet or images obtained without written permission from the copyright holder.

CAPTIONS: Number the image file names in the order they should appear in the article. Please include a descriptive caption and a credit of the source for each photo.

STYLE: We use the Chicago Manual of Style with a few changes to suit History Center style.

BIO: Include an author bio at the end of the text, 30 words max.

Further information for prospective authors:

1. Articles must be based on primary resources and original analysis of historical events, preferably with a strong connection to Western Pennsylvania.
2. If sending a proposal, be specific about what your article will focus on; if sending a manuscript, make sure it has a clear, concise thesis statement (which is MORE than just what the article will be about).
3. Articles should NOT be of a general nature but should be written to be enjoyed by a general audience.
4. Submit at any time: there are no deadlines until an article is accepted and scheduled for publication. Publication in a particular issue cannot be guaranteed.

5. Submissions are subject to modification and review by our internal Publications Committee, both before and after being accepted for publication.
6. We follow the Chicago Manual of Style and expect submissions to also adhere to those rules. Endnotes are required to be part of the Word document to support the thesis.
7. The magazine pays authors upon publication, typically $250, via invoice with a W-9 form.
8. The History Center will hold copyright of the published article and retains the right to reprint articles in any format or media, along with the right to grant that permission to others.
9. Submissions can be e-mailed to HHCPublications@heinzhistorycenter.org
10. Publication will likely take at least a year. We take great care in proofing, editing, and designing articles, which requires quality time.
11. We also consider book reviews of 300-600 words, which should include all publishing info, author byline, and a small but hi-res image of the cover. Books should have been published within the past year.
