History Center to Host 11th Annual Vintage Pittsburgh Retro Fair
-The event features over 60 local vintage vendors, food and beverage, and six floors of exhibitions and activities-

PITTSBURGH, March 24, 2025 – The Senator John Heinz History Center – the Smithsonian’s home in Pittsburgh – will host its 11th annual Vintage Pittsburgh retro fair in partnership with The Neighborhood Flea on Saturday, April 5, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The popular annual event will feature more than 60 makers and vendors on each floor of the History Center, selling one-of-a-kind clothing, accessories, home décor, vinyl records, and more.

After shopping, visitors can explore six floors of exhibitions at the #1 History Museum in America, including stunning vintage textiles and quilts made by Pittsburgh artist Louise Silk inside the History Center’s exhibition, Louise Silk: A Patchwork Life.

The PGH Crepes food truck will be parked in front of the museum as part of the event.

Access to Vintage Pittsburgh is included with regular admission: $20 for adults, $18 for senior citizens (age 65+), $11 for students and children (age 6-17), and FREE for History Center members and kids aged 5 and under.

Special early bird tickets, which grant visitors early access to the vendor fair from 9–10 a.m., are available for an additional $5. A limited number of early bird tickets remain.

For more information and to purchase tickets, please visit heinzhistorycenter.org.

The Neighborhood Flea was established in July 2014 and brings a curated selection of Pittsburgh's finest hidden treasures from its unique neighborhoods to discerning customers in an urban setting, and a new neighborhood magically emerges. The Neighborhood Flea is organized by the team behind I Made It! Market, Pittsburgh's nomadic artist market, with over 18 years of experience transforming spaces throughout Pittsburgh into lively marketplaces where community is built and regional sellers thrive.

The Senator John Heinz History Center, an affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution and the largest history museum in Pennsylvania, presents American history with a Western Pennsylvania connection. The History Center and Sports Museum are located at 1212 Smallman Street in the city's Strip District. The History Center's family of museums includes the Sports Museum; the Fort Pitt Museum in historic Point State Park; and Meadowcroft Rockshelter and Historic Village, a National Historic Landmark located in Avella, Pa., in Washington County. More information is available at heinzhistorycenter.org.

On Saturday, April 5, the History Center's 11th Annual Vintage Pittsburgh retro fair, presented in partnership with The Neighborhood Flea, will feature more than 60 local vendors selling vintage goods and handmade keepsakes.
